	 monster.mp3 Let's try this again. I have Windows 7, so I guess it might take some playing with. It looks like it has finally worked. Only two tries, so not that bad. Wish I could delete my first post to clean up the discussion board but doesn't look like I am able to. Have fun recreating my monster! Chrissy Show parent Reply

	Hi Jonathan - I tried to create your beast at work where I have two screens, to listen on one and create on the other, but it didn't download. So had to wait until I got home. Sorry it has taken a little bit. You didn't mention the color of your extremities, so I let those default. You also didn't say if the horse hat had a color, so I made him Bronco Blue. Anxious to see if I at least get the shapes correct. Definitely a good exercise. Chrissy Show parent Reply

	Pretty close, especially because I didn't realize I could color the thing. Here's mine: Show parent Reply

	I am impressed with how well I did! Although I did listen to the recording 3 or 4 times, which is not a luxury you get when having a conversation with students and families. Show parent Reply

	Ohhhh, and I didn't realize you could color the thing until you started talking about colors, so my recording makes NO mention of colors because I just didn't realize that I could change them. Sorry! Show parent Reply

	Will you post your monster so I can see how good/bad I did at recreating him. Thanks.
